Because nothing matters more ...

"The Duke Children's family is so grateful to everyone at 'Jump for the Children'" said Ann M. Reed, MD, chair of the Department of Pediatrics and physician-in-chief at Duke Children's. "Every year I am impressed by their efforts, the event is truly 'more than just a horse show.' Every dollar raised during 'Jump for the Children's' over 40-year history has supported critical needs at Duke Children's, including clinical care, pediatric research, and the education of tomorrow's pediatric providers. The 'Jump for the Children,' organizers represent the best of our community, coming together in support of what matters most: our children."
